Applicant's Proposal to Improve the Description of the Main Uses of the Investigated Products in the Anti-Dumping Case on Pork and Pig By-Products (there is no confidential version of this submission)

Bureau of Trade Remedy and Investigation of Ministry of Commerce:

Regarding the anti-dumping investigation of pork and pig by-products, on 17 June 2024, the Ministry of Commerce issued the Notice No.23 of the year, deciding to initiate an anti-dumping investigation into imports of pork and pig by-products originating in the European Union from the date of the notice.

In the notice of initiation, the use of the products under investigation is described as 'main use: mainly for human consumption'. In order to be consistent with the description of the use of the product under the relevant tariff code, the applicant suggests that the description of the main use of the product under investigation in this case can be improved to 'main use: suitable for human consumption'.

It should be noted that the above refinement of the description of the main use of the investigated products based on the description of the tariff code will not change the scope of the investigated products in this case.

The above proposal is for your review.

If you have any questions, please contact our office.

Yours sincerely

Sincerely
